

Namaste Javascript

episode
01

Everything in Javascript happens inside an "execution context."

whole javascript
code

* Two components of execution context :->

Memory component/

code component/

variable environment

thread of execution

contains variables

and functions as key value pair

[here code get executed line by line]

- Javascript is a synchronous single-threaded language.

only execute one command at a time and in specific order